

FALL CITY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

P.O. Box 293, Fall City, WA 98024

fallcityhistorical@juno.com

www.fallcityhistorical.org

Google Books: history's Curiosity Shoppe

If you're looking for entertainment on a stormy (or hot) day, cast about in the vast pond that is Google Books. A search on "fall city" brings up a wealth of tidbits and some real treasures. A few examples are shown here, and you'll find more soon on our website (see bottom of page for details).

American Berkshire Record 1912

"F.E. Bennett of Fall City is listed as breeder of five registered animals, all sired by his boar PRIDE OF SNOQUALMIE."

1909 Washington Dairy and Food Commissioner
SEVENTH BIENNIAL REPORT

KING COUNTY.

No.	NAME OF CREAMERY.	PROPRIETOR.	POSTOFFICE.
611	Fall City.....	C. W. Bonell.....	Fall City
484	Glenwood .....	C. D. Props.....	Fall City
2	Moores .....	J. H. Moore.....	Fall City

1880, a Report of the Chief of Engineers, U.S. Army, on the Snohomish River with detailed descriptions of the Skykomish and Snoqualmie Rivers. The Snoqualmie Valley includes: "The principal settlements are....Fall City, three miles above the head of navigation on the Snoqualmie, a pioneer settlement, with a weekly mail, brought from Seattle by rail to New Castle coal mine, thence on horseback to Fall City."

September, 1923 CONCRETE HIGHWAY MAGAZINE 203

Attractive Concrete Bridge Spans Snoqualmie River at Fall City, Wash.

SINCE 1917 a three-span concrete arch bridge has carried traffic using the Sunset Highway across the Snoqualmie River at Fall City, Wash. The bridge consists of three arches with an overall length of 370 feet. The center arch span is 104 feet while the two end arches have a span of 97 feet. Spandrels are backfilled with earth. The grade of the roadway over the bridge approximates a parabolic curve 310 feet long, with a rise of 4 feet.

The stately strength of the Sunset Highway bridge as it crosses the Snoqualmie River at Fall City, is strikingly illustrated in this photograph.

(Full text of this article will be available on website.)

JOHN G. JANICKE, attorney at law and a farmer of King county, was born in a town near Leipsic, Prussia, January 18, 1827, a son of John G. and Christina (Boelme)

1893, An Illustrated History of the State of Washington by Harvey Kimball Hines includes in Biographies an approx. 450-word section on John Janicke, including his service in the Civil War and coming to Fall City in 1871.

JOIN OUR EMAIL UPDATE SERVICE
We add new materials each month to our website and send out a note to the Email Update list to announce what is new and available. Go to www.fallcityhistorical.org and you will be guided to a link to subscribe.