An Insider's Look at

in the Seattle Times, by Clay Eals and Jean Sherrard

FALL CITY COMMUNITY PROGRAM BY ZOOM!

Friday, November 13th, 7pm

In their hour-long presentation, columnists Clay Eals and Jean Sherrard will share how they come up with ideas for the popular photo-history column and the new approaches they are taking to the feature in the wake of a decision by the column's originator, Paul Dorpat, to retire from the column in 2019. Dorpat completed an astonishing total of more than 1,800 installments during his 37 years at the helm.

In the presentation, illustrated with examples which include sites in North Bend and Fall City, Eals and Sherrard will discuss the column's formula — starting with an old “then” photo, taking a modern “now” photo from the same vantage and writing text to bring out the details and stories behind the photos.

They also will delve into their methods, which include the use of materials and information from local heritage organizations and the inclusion of people in their “now” photos. They will also cover the innovative touches included in “web extras” provided for each column, including a 360-degree video taken at the “now” photo site, accompanied by an audio rendition of the column's text.

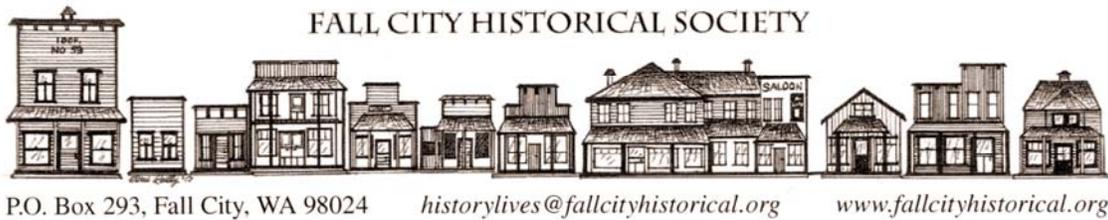

“Now & Then” can be seen at <https://www.seattletimes.com/category/now-and-then/>. The same column, with “web extras,” is available each week at <https://pauldorpat.com/>, where those who are interested can sign up for weekly updates.

You are invited...
please join our Fall Fundraising Drive!

As we move toward the end of a year that has been difficult for all of us, it is time again to ask your help in supporting our work. Because of obstacles to the work we hoped to do on the Hop Shed, we have referred questions of its future to King County Preservation and Landmarks. We look forward to working with them. Since that work is now On Hold, this year's fundraising will go into our general fund, which covers the costs of maintaining and updating our website and Online Collection site, as well as expenses for hardware, software, collections care and our office in Fall City. If Hop Shed work becomes possible next year, we can also draw on the funds for that purpose. *You may send a check to the address above, or donate online.

All of our work is done by volunteers—every donation is greatly appreciated!

We're excited about the 2021 Fall City Calendar. It will be a special feast of OLD FAVORITE photos for your enjoyment. Each photo is presented full-page, without text, suitable for framing... a great gift for friends who have moved out of town! *If your donation or membership is $50 or more, you may ask to have a free calendar mailed to you! See instructions online, or add a note with your mailed check. Thank you for your support!

IN LOVING MEMORY OF NANCY RICE, LONG TIME RESIDENT OF FALL CITY

She could light up a room just as she could light up a switch board. May her spirit shine bright and linger over a perfect cappuccino in the historic Prescott-Harshman House. Nancy would love the transformation of this beautiful space.

*Donations in Nancy's memory to FCHS will be welcomed.
